MR. FRYE REPORTS THE RAILROAD FUNDING BILL.

Trying to Collect Bad Debts_Fifty Years Given for the Payment in Full-Three Per Cent, Interest

Mr. Frye, from the select committee on Pacific Railroad, reported the Pacific Railroad Funding bill with a unani-mous report from the committee. Mr. Frye, in explaining the bill and report, said by the bill the Union Pacific Company was required to pay 3 per cent, in-terest and to pay its entire debt in fifty years. It was required to give a mortgage on all its property of every name and description.

The committee found that that additional property which the United States received as additional security, amounted to a great deal more than the debt due to the United States, makes the ultimate payment of the debt as certain as anything human could be.

As to the Central Pacific Company

bill required the payment of its debt in seventy-five years, with interest at the rate of 2 per cent. But the present serious condition of the Central Pacific Company and the absolute necessity for its building several being important bridges in California. as well as building some additional lines of railroad there, had determined that 1 per cent. of the 3 per cent. should be capitalized for the first ten

That being done, the Central Pacific would have to pay for the first ten years about $650,000 a year (and there was no doubt that it could do that), and about $1,400,000 a year at the end of ten years. It was quite a leap from $650,000 to $1,400,000, but between now and ten years hence it was expected the Central Pacific, having settled with the United States, could fund at least $20,000,000 of its other indebtedness, which now paid 6 per cent. interest at from 4 to 41 per cent., and that that saving of inter-est alone would enable the com-pany to meet that additional require-At the end of twenty years, the amount to be paid by th Central Pacific would be $1,700,000 annually, until the final payment was made, which would be within seventy-

Postoffice for Washington. The efforts of THE CRITIC to secure for this city a Postoflice building worthy of the Capitol of the United States, will shortly be crowned with success.

This morning Senator Pettigrew intreduced a bill which, if passed, will give to Washington one of the finest postoffices in the country. The bill empowers the Treasury to acquire the real estate embraced in the square bounded by Penna. avenue on the north, C street on the south, Ninth street on the east and the building of the Washington Safe Deposit Company on the west, at a cost of not over $275,000. The bill also appropriates $800,000 for the erection of a suitable and commodious building for the use of a post-office, and directs that it be supplied with fire-proof vaults and all other ne-

Last Friday a code of rules was adopted which gave the Speaker that right. Against this they still pro-tested and would continue to do so as unconstitutional. But this ques-tion could not be decided in this House, and whenever proper cases arose it would go to some other forum, where it could be finally and decisively passed upon. He saw no reason why the journal should not be approved in the form which the House had a right to prescribe.

The journal was then approved.

FORAKER WAS MISTAREN. Adjutant-General Kelton Corrects a

Reckless Statement,

CINCINNATI, OHIO. Feb. 17.—In a speech at the dedication of the First Regiment Armory, on Saturday even-ing, ex-Governor Foraker said that he was asked by telegraph from the War Department at Washington in 1877, when the Canadian fishery situation was strained, how many armed men he could rush to the Canadian border in case of a sudden emergency. He said similar messages were sent to the Governors of Adjutant-General Kelton laughed when the above dispatch was shown to him this morning.

"It is true," he said, "that the War Department, in 1887, asked the Gov-ernors of all the States how many men they could concentrate at a given point in a given space of time, but they had nothing to do with the Canadian situation, and nothing was said about rushing men was said about rushing men to the Canadian border. The War Department recognizes that in case of riots or sudden troubles the people must depend upon the National Guard to preserve peace, and we seek to keep up the interest in the Guard as much

"With that idea in view we sent out circulars to the Governors in 1888, ask-ing them how many men they could concentrate at a given point in an emergency, for the purpose of giving the members of the National Guard something to discuss in their armeries and of stirring up a rivalry between the States in this matter. The Governor is mistaken if he supposes that these circulars had anything to do with the Canadian situation.

FIGHTING FOR LIFE.

Louisiana Lottery Company Offers to Pay the State Debt, New ORLEANS, LA., Feb. 17.—The Louisiana Lottery Company is making a desperate effort to retain its corporate life. It has failed to secure a charter from North Dakota, and its next move, it is said, will be an enormous bribe to the Louisiana Legislature for a renewal of its present charter, which will expire two years hence. Its proposition will be to pay the entire State debt, amounting to from $11,000,000 to $12,000,000.

The lottery is earning $250,000 a month or $3,000,000 per annum net. Many prominent Louisianans fear that the bribe may be accepted.

Trouble for a Printer. FORT WORTH, TEX., Feb. 17.—H. T. Cherry, a printer who arrived here last night, tells that a few nights ago a safe at Alvarado was robbed of $600, and he being a stranger in the town was arrested and placed in jail. The fol-lowing day he was released, as there was no evidence against him. He went from there to Morgan, and it happened that shortly after his arrival in the town that shortly after his arrival in the town a $60 robbery took place. He was arrested on suspicion, but again released, after which he returned to Alvarado. The people hearing of his arrest and discharge at Morgan took him out and strung him up, demanding a confession. He claimed that he was innocent, and was again strung up and the mob fired their pistols in the air to frighten him. He stoutly maintained his innocence. He stoutly maintained his innocence, and after being nearly choked to death was finally released.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 17.—On Sat-urday night John Hood, the aged father of Sheriff Hood of Chester County, was shot from ambush and instantly killed. There was strong cir-cumstantial evidence against a negro named Green Brown, and he was ar-rested. A mob bent upon lynching the negro soon collected, but Sheriff Hood succeeded in getting the man out of the way of the mob, and then telegraphed the Governor, asking that the man be taken to Columbia for safe keeping. The Governor so ordered, and authorized the calling out of the Chester Militia, if necessary, to protect the prisoner. Brown was safely lodged in Columbia jail last evening.

The club has engaged the services of Tim O'Hare, ate instructor of the Brooklyn Athletic Club, and he will be on deck about March 1. A new cinder track, 220 yards straight, is being laid out on Analostan Island, and it is hoped by spring to have a pretty little club-house

The number of new patients during the month of January was 1,923, of which 238 were white and 785 colored. Thetotal num-ber of visits by patients was 2,190; prescriptions compounded. 3,099; emergency cases, 51. This is the largest number of patients ever received in one month during the history of the hos-pital. As a result of such increase the necessary expenses of the institution has also been increased. It has not money enough on hand to pay its debts, and is sadly in need of subscriptions.

NEW RAILROAD ROUTES.

AN IMPORTANT BILL FROM SENA-TOR INGALLS.

He Proposes to Change the Lines Through Which the Companies May Enter the City—The Complete Details of His Plan.

A measure of the utmost importance Washington, and one which will do away, to a considerable extent, with the dangerous grade crossings of the steam? railroad companies whose tracks run through this city was presented in the Senate by Senator Ingalls this morning. This bill changes the present routes of the Baltimore and Ohio and the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad companies in this city, and gives them new routes, which will allow them to enter the Capital through the more sparsely settled sections.

The bill provides that from and after the 1st day of January, 1893, it shall be unlawful for either of these two companies to maintain their tracks or to run trains into the city, except upon and over the routes specified and provided, any existing provisions of law or of the charters of the said companies to the contrary notwithstanding; that on or before said date all tracks, buildings and structures of any and every description now occuthe 1st day of January, 1893, it any and every description now occupied by the companies shall be re-moved within ten days after nowithin ten days after notice from the District Commissioners to do so is received, and that the failure to obey such notice, shall give the Commissioners power to remove such buildings, etc., at the company owning the same.

The new route laid out for the Baltimore and Ohio road in the bill, directs that this company shall enter the city from the north at the northern boundary-line of Boundary street, at or near its intersection with Third street and proceed south along Third street east with a double track at grade or by means of an open cut to a point at or near the intersection of E street north and Third street east, subject to the approval of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia; third, by means of a tunnel to a point at or near E street north, thence westwardly through Governmens reservation numbered seventeen to a point on Canal street, on north side of the tracks of the Baltimore and Poto-mac Railroad, at or near One-Half street, thence along Canal street and Virginia avenue, parallel with and on the north side of the tracks of the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad to intersection of Sixth street, west to Missouri avenue to a passenger station to be located on Missouri avenue. This company is also given the right to extend its tracks to the Long Bridge and across that structure. The route laid out for the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company in the bill is as follows: It shall enter the city from the north and east, along the northern shore of the Eastern Branch of the Potomac River at a point between L and M streets south, to K street south, to Canal street and Virginia avenue, to a point at or near One-half street east and Canal, to Virginia avenue parallel with the route laid out for the Baltimore and Ohio road to Sixth street west and Virginia avenue, and thence along Sixth street west to the present passenger station.

She is the bearer of reports which confirm the loss of the steamer Dunburg with 400 passengers. The Dun-burg was a vessel of 1,907 tons burden and had for some years been employed in the China trade.

She was commanded by Captain Ber-telson and cleared from Singapore on October 25 for Amoy via Hong Kong.

Mormon Atrocities. BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Feb. 17.-Geo Preston, of Clay county, Ala., returned home a few days ago from Utah, where he went ten months ago as a convert to Mormonism. He tells a thrilling story of the treatment of converts by the Mormons when they reach Utah. He says the women converts are married to elders, who in most cases have three or four wives already, and if they offer the slightest resistance they are flogged or otherwise punished until they submit. The men, who have been promised homes and farms, are compelled to give up all the money they have to the Church, and then they are turned adrift to live as best they can. Preston and his young wife were converted to Mor-monism about a year ago by two elders who were proselyting in Clay county. They sold all they had and went to Utab. Preston says his wife was stolen from him and taken to Salt Lake City. he thinks, but he was never able to find any trace of her. He was then, by threats, compelled to give the Church all the money he had—$290—and then he was told he must look out for him-

TOO MUDDY TO DRINK

Probably never before in the history Washington has it been furnished with such a long-continued supply of muddy water as at present. The water that flows through the mains is unfit to furnish to live stock. It is not simply rolly, it is abomnably muddy. Even milk dealers complain that they are forced to bring spring water a great distance at much expense.

The water is totally unfit for drinking purposes, and about the only place in which it seems to assimilate with its surroundings is a cup of boarding-house coffee.

house coffee.

A prominent Avenue restaurateur said of it this morning: "We always use carefully filtered water, and I had not realized the nauseous condition of our water supply until I was struck with the continual appearance of men at my bar, whom I have heretofore believed to be abstainers from all kinds of intoxicants. I soon discovered that they invariably called for soft drinks, or for beer, because they claimed they could not stand the muddy river water now flowing from the District

Inquiries by THE CRITIC have dis-closed the fact that the supply comes from the river (which is now unusually high and muddy), without being filtered. The water was drawn off the lower reservoir recently, in order to make new connections, and the supply has been brought around it in pipes and has no time to settle.

Captain Lusk said he had nothing to do with this. "We merely distribute the water after it is lurned over to us for distribution," said he. "The pres-ent water reminds me of the St. Louis and Cincinnati articles, which are muddy and foul the year around. In fact, water in those cities never becomes clear except a short while in winter, when the Obio and Mississippi are frozen over. Then it cannot be compared in clearness to a lemonade shaken up with four-cent sugar."

Inquiries at the Aqueduct office failed to throw any light upon the time when the connections would be made. The authorities there said that the water now ran from the river in the first reservoir. but from that point it was run in pipes around the second reservoir direct to

And whereas, it now appears by a direct communication from the British naval commander on the American station, to be his avowed purpose to employ the force under his direction "in destroying and laying waste such towns and districts upon the coast as may be found assailable;" adding to this declaration, the insulting pretext that it is in retaliation for a wanton destruction committed by the army of the United States in Upper Canada, when it is notorious, that no destruction has been committed, which, notwithstanding the multiplied outrages previously committed by the enemy, was not unauthorised, and promptly shown to be so; and that the United States have been as constant in their endeavors to reclaim the enemy from such outrages, by the contrast of their own example, as they have been ready to terminate, on reasonable conditions, the war itself:

And whereas, these proceedings and de-clared purposes, which exhibit a deliberate disregard of the principles of humanity, and the rules of civilised warfare, and which must give to the existing war a char-acter of extended devastation and barbar-ism, at the very moment of negotiations for peace, invited by the enemy himself, leave no prospect of safety to any thing within the reach of his predatory and in-cendiary operations, but in a manly and universal determination to chastise and ex-pel the invader:

cendiary operations, but in a manly and universal determination to chastise and expel the invader:

Now, therefore, I, James Madison, president of the United States, do issue this my proclamation, exhorting all the good people thereof, to unite their hearts and hands in giving effect to the ample means passessed for that purpose. I enjoin it on all officers, civil and military, to exert themselves in executing the duties with which they are respectively charged. And more especially, I require the officers commanding the respective military districts, to be vigilant and alert in providing for the defence thereof; for the more effectual accomplishment of which, they are authorised to call to the defence of exposed and threatened places, portions of the militia most convenient thereto, whether they be or be not parts of the quotas detached for the scrvice of the United States under requisitions of the general government.

On an occasion which appeals so forcibly to the proud feelings and patriotic devotion of the American people, none will forget what they owe to themselves; what they owe to their country and the high destinies which await it; what to the glory acquired by their fathers, in establishing the independence which is now to be maintained by their sons, with the augumented strength and resources with which time and Heaven have blessed them. strength and resources with which time and Heaven have blessed them.

That Tired Feeling

is experienced by almost every one at this season, and many people resort to Hood's Sarsaparilla to drive away the languor and exhaustion. The blood, laden with impuri-ties which have been accumulating for menths, moves sluggishly through the veins, the mind falls to think quickly and the body is still slower to respond. Hood's Sarsapa-rilla is just what is needed. It purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood, makes the head clear, creates an appetite, overcome that tired feeling, tones the nervous system and imparts new strength and vigor to the whole body.

Hood's Sarsaparilla "My appetite was poor. I could not sleep; bad headache a great deal, pains in my back;

my bowels did not move regularly. Hood's Sarsaparilla in a short time did me so much good that I feel like a new man. My pains and aches are relieved, my appetite improved. I say to others who need a good medicine, try Hood's Sarsaparilla and soc."-George F. Jackson, Roxbury Station, Coan Makes the Weak Strong "For years I was sick every spring, but last year took Hood's Sarsaparilla and have not seen a sick day since."—G. W. Sloan, Milton,

"I take Hood's Sarsaparilla as a sprins tonic and I recommend it to all who have that miserable tired feeling "-C. Pannelle, 549 Bridge street, Brooklyn, N.Y. Hood's Sarsaparilla
